Chaitanya Saradhi

Education is the mother of all Social Progress

Program at a Glance

The computer is the window of opportunity to the modern world.

The CHAITANYA SARADHI's program includes Computer education and Life Skill training and Social Responsibility for underprivileged students in India.
We install computers in a dedicated classroom in government schools.
We hire, motivate, train, and supervise teachers.
We repair and replace equipment promptly.
We train the students to become proficient in Microsoft word, Excel, PowerPoint, and typing.
We conduct private lessons in HTML, PHOTOSHOP, and the INTERNET for interested students.
We conduct extra coaching lessons for slow learners.
We play weekly motivational videos and help the students set goals and affirmations.
We call on students to check their progress and guide them to get better regularly.
We help students to improve their spoken English and Communication skills.
We conduct examinations and certify graduating students on their computer skills.

We encourage students' peer teaching and learning.	We test and reward the student winners.

Our teachers offer students lessons during holidays, after hours, and on weekends.
We conduct weekly teachers' interactive sessions to share their experiences in motivating and teaching students.
During the summer holidays, we hold interactive zoom classes with teachers to excel in implementing the academic syllabus and life skill training.
We visit classrooms frequently to quiz teachers and students on the spot and give them feedback.
We organize yearly seminars for teachers.
We conduct intense motivational training for teachers to dedicate to implementing the academic and life skill program in the spirit of building a better world.
